Candidates for Piper Berths to Workout This Week; Scrimmage Set for Saturday

With more than 50 boys reporting as candidates for berths on the 1949-50 Piper football team, Coach Jesse Burditt said actual training of the squad will get underway next Monday.

The boys reported at a meeting Monday evening in the High School building, when Burditt and Vernon Townsend, assistant coach, discussed formation of the team.

Burditt said only seven lettermen will return this fall to form a nucleus for building the team. In addition to the seven lettermen he will have 15 squadmen from last year. The remainder of the team members will have to be chosen from raw material.

The boys will engage in their first scrimmage of the year when Haskell comes here Saturday, August 20, in a pre-season tilt. A return scrimmage with Haskell will be played Wednesday, August 24.

Third scrimmage of the season will take place Saturday, August 27, when Coach Truman Nix will bring his Rule Bobcats here for a practice session.

Beginning Monday a stiff schedule of training is slated for the Piper hopefuls. The boys will work out from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. At 3:30 they will be given "skull practice" or training in the principles of foot-

Lions Cubs Lost In Third Game of Softball Tourney

Hamlin's junior softball team, the Lions Cubs, won the first two games they played in the state TAAF softball tournament in Austin last week, but lost the third contest to Taylor by a score of 4 to 2.

The team, which won 17 games out of 20 played during the season, was coached by Herman Treadwell and Bill Shira, members of the Lions Club, sponsors.

Playing the Austin Ramblers in their first game of the tournament, the Cubs defeated the Austin players 5 to 1 early last Friday.

Stamford Exchange club faced the Cubs at 7 p. m. Friday, and Hamlin won over the neighboring club 7 to 6 at the end of 11 innings. The game was a pitcher's duel throughout, with Hamlin using two men on the mound before the Exchange group was subdued.

Three pitchers were credited with helping the Cubs to win in their first two games of the tournament. They are Sugar Green, LeRoy Hicks and Billy Roe McGuire.

Adults who accompanied the team to Austin, in addition to Treadwell and Shira are Charlie Gregory, Junior Haight, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Hewitt and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Green.

Johnston Gives Lions Club Program

Miss Jeannine Johnston entertained members of the Lions Club with a humorous skit at the Tuesday luncheon meeting. Miss Johnston, a recent graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, portrayed "Susie" an unsophisticated country girl whose main interest in life is men.

A. G. Irwin, president of the club, gave a report of his recent trip to the Lions International convention in New York City.

Herman Treadwell gave a report of the Lions Cubs trip to the state softball tournament in Austin last week.

Tim Dickey and grandson, Don Dickey, are visiting relatives in Hamlin this week.

Ideas for Annual Event in Hamlin Are Asked by Planning Board; Prize Given

A request for submission of ideas for staging an annual entertainment event in Hamlin was made Monday evening by the Civic Planning Board.

The request came following discussion of the proposed annual reunion of ex-students of Hamlin's schools. The proposal for a school reunion was made two months ago and has been discussed at meetings since that time.

Members of the board Monday night pointed out that such an event could not appeal to persons who have moved to Hamlin, and to those who have not attended school here.

Suitable prizes will be awarded to persons who submit the best ideas for an annual entertainment, the board voted. The ideas must be submitted to The Hamlin Herald not later than Thursday, September 1 to be eligible for judging in the contest. Members of the board will judge the entries and award the prizes.

Attending Monday evening's session of the board were: Mickey McIntire, Fire Department; Mrs. Brad Lowland, Legion Auxiliary; Miss Annie Greenway and Mrs. W. H. Hight, cemetery association; Mrs. John Bryant, Beta Sigma Phi society; Mrs. Eddie Jay, Parent-Teacher association; Mrs. Bert Umby, VFW Auxiliary.

Charles Gardner, Rotary Club; Mrs. Crawford, Lions Club; B. V. Newberry, Hamlin schools; Clyde Hight, Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Bill Thompson, Fire Auxiliary; Mrs. R. D. Moore, Literary Club; Roy J. Curtis, Hamlin Herald.

Miss Jeannine Johnston, above, will represent Hamlin as Sponsor in the Crossroads Stampede to be staged in Sweetwater August 18, 19 and 20. Miss Johnston, a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Johnston of Hamlin.

Rises Friday for Mrs. S. F. Mason, Pioneer of Area

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Friday for Mrs. S. F. Mason, 91-year-old McCauley pioneer, who died in the Callan Hospital in Rotan at 2:15 Thursday morning.

Mrs. Mason had been a resident of the McCauley community for more than 40 years and was widely known in this area. Her husband died more than 25 years ago.

She had been in ill health for several months and had been a patient in the Rotan hospital for several weeks. She was 91 years, 7 months and 14 days of age at the time of her death.

Rites will be in the McCauley Baptist Church, with Rev. L. R. Suckey, pastor, in charge.

Mrs. Mason is survived by five children. They are: Miss Mildred Mason of Chicago; Miss Gertrude Mason of McCauley; Kenneth Mason of Dallas; Ed Mason of McCauley, and Merle Mason of Houston. In addition there are five grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Burial will be in the McCauley cemetery, directed by Barlow Funeral Home.

Mrs. Clarence Bailey and son, Ralph, left last Friday for Chicago, where they will spend several weeks with Mrs. Bailey's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Woodstock. They will return to their home here September 4.

Hamlin Baptists to Entertain Area Meet

The First Baptist Church of Hamlin will be host to a meeting of delegates from churches in District 17 on Tuesday, August 23, it was announced this week.

The district is composed of Fisher, Sonewall and Jones counties, and it is expected that an attendance of more than 300 will be registered at the meeting.

State workers in Sunday school, Training union, Brotherhood, music and Womens Missionary Union work will be present to outline the state Baptist program for 1950.

Rev. J. Henry Littleton, who for 14 years was pastor of the Hamlin church, and who is now serving as district missionary will be in charge of the meeting.

No Pre-Age Pupils to Be Enrolled in Term

No children under six years of age will be enrolled in Hamlin schools at the beginning of the school term, I. R. Huchingson, superintendent, announced this week.

Classified as pre-age students are those who have not reached their sixth birthday on or before September 1. Reason for refusing to accept pre-age children is that their acceptance would result in crowding in the lower grades, Huchingson said.

SINGING POSTPONED

Regular second Sunday singing in the Calvary Baptist Church in Hamlin, has been postponed until the second Sunday in September, it was announced this week.

Santa Letters Coming Trifle Early in 1949

Joyce Dutton and Jerry Dutton believe in early Christmas shopping, it was evidenced this week from two letters received by The Herald.

The envelopes addressed in block letters, scrawled with childish hands, were directed to "Santa clause, north pole, Jerry Dutton, Jerry Dutton."

It was not difficult to read the addresses, but when the envelopes were opened, it proved an impossible task to decipher the missives, which perhaps, only the eyes of Saint Nick can translate.

Anyway, Joyce and Jerry, your letters have been forwarded to Santa Claus, himself, and no doubt you will both enjoy a Merry Christmas, more than four months from now.

Williams Ellenburger Well Fows From Pay Zone; Poe No. 5 Nearing Completion

Flowing from the Ellenburger formation, the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Co., Por. H. Williams was expected to be put on gauge this week for an official test of the pay zone.

Operators said the well has been flowing for the past two days on its own power through casing, and they were preparing to run tubing after drilling the plug. Indications pointed to one of the best wells in the area.

The Dr. Bryant No. 5 Poe was drilling at 3,450 feet Thursday and operators expected to encounter pay Saturday or Sunday.

The Texas Pacific, Padue slated for another try at the Ellenburger, was below the 2,000 foot mark Thursday and drilling ahead.

Rösser & Pendleton No. 1 Landy Jameson, Ellenburger wildcat 15 miles northwest of Hamlin ran an electric log this week when the tool was bottomed at 6,195 feet. A mud-stem test recovered oil cut mud and traces of salt water.

Texas Pacific has completed the No. 3 A. E. Padue Account 1, with an official gauge of 140.76 barrels of oil in six hours test. The well was drilled to the Swastika at 3,775 feet.

The H. E. Redus No. 2, drilled by Texas Pacific in the Round Top area, has been completed with an official potential of 135.24 barrels of oil in 9 hours. The well drilled to the reef at 4,749-84 feet.

Carl C. Myers Is Slain at Rodeo

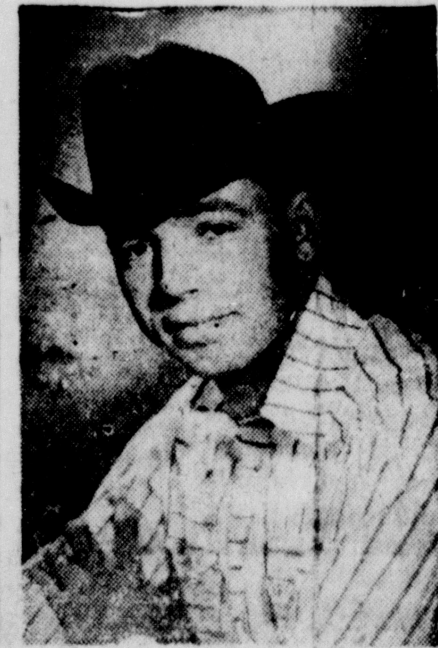

Funeral Rites Sunday In Abilene Church For Former Hamlinite Killed in Big Spring

Carl C. Myers, 23, former resident of Hamlin, was shot to death last Thursday night at Big Spring as he stood in a rodeo arena watching the riding contests.

Myers was killed by a stray bullet, allegedly fired by Herb Frizzell, Brahma bull rider, from Beaumont. Henry Preston Jones, a judge at the rodeo, was killed when Frizzell is alleged to have walked up to Jones and fired at him several times.

The shooting took place in front of the grandstand in which approximately 2,500 people were seated watching the rodeo performances.

Funeral services for Myers were conducted last Sunday afternoon

Boy Scouts Leave for Outing at Carlsbad

Hamlin's Boy Scout troop, accompanied by several adults, left Thursday morning by covered truck for Carlsbad Caverns, where they will spend two days on a camping trip.

The boys were accompanied by Scoutmaster Jake Lawson, Carl Young, driver of the truck, and Arnold Johnson, who went by automobile.

They took their own food and bedding and will cook their own meals and camp out during the trip.

in the University Baptist Church in Abilene with Rev. John D. Alexander, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, in charge. Myers had been a former member of Alexander's church.

Frizzell, who admitted firing the shots that killed both Jones and Myers, was arrested immediately by bystanders and a .38 caliber pistol was wrested from his hands.

He said he killed Jones because the rodeo judge had insulted Frizzell's niece.

Speculators said Frizzell walked up to Jones, who back was turned to him and fired at the man. Jones slumped down with the first shot. Frizzell fired several other shots, and Myers fell writhing to the ground.

Myers was rushed to a Big Spring hospital, where he died a few minutes after arrival without regaining consciousness.

Frizzell and Jones had engaged in a fist fight earlier in the afternoon on the rodeo grounds, but were separated by bystanders.

Myers, popular rodeo performer was a student in Hardin-Simmons University. He served as president of the Hardin-Simmons Rodeo association and had directed the recent student rodeo at H-SU. He was a veteran of World War II.

Born March 7, 1926, Myers was reared in Hamlin and attended local schools.

He was married last August 6 to Miss Carlo a Jean Moses of San Antonio, and the couple had been living in Abilene, where both were attending the university. During the summer Myers had been employed as a horse trainer on a ranch near Merkel.

In addition to his widow, Myers is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Myers, a brother, Ray, and a sister, Jessie, both of Abilene. Frizzell, who was charged with murder in each of the two deaths, was freed on two bonds of $10,000 each, posted Sunday night. The bonds were made in Beaumont and airmailed to Big Spring.

Assistant V. A. Instructor Is Employed Here

Harold Eades of Stephenville, was employed this week as a full-time assistant instructor of vocational agriculture for the Hamlin High School, it was announced by T. C. Blankenship, head of the department.

Eades will work under the direction of Blankenship, who is beginning his fifth year in the local school. I. R. Huchingson, superintendent, said.

A native of Stephenville, Eades received his agriculture training in the Stephenville schools and later attended John Tarleton Agriculture College and Texas A&M.

Blankenship said Tuesday an enrollment of more than 60 boys is expected in the vocational agriculture classes this year. He said the department also anticipates many more requests for work with adult farmers during the term.

Throughout Texas additional vocational agriculture teachers are being added to school faculties, and it is expected that 150 additional instructors will be employed in the state this year. Part of the salary for these assistants will be paid from state funds.

Blankenship said it is the purpose of the Hamlin department this year to develop an effective and more useful agricultural program among the young men in the classes and to give greater assistance to adult farmers.

Mrs. Loy Hill of DeLeon has returned to her home after being a guest in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Starr Inzer.

Mrs. C. C. Prater will undergo a major surgical operation in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene Friday.

Members of the Hamlin Lions Cubs, District 3 TAAF softball champions, are shown above with their managers, shortly before they were to leave for Austin to play in the state softball tournament. The Cubs won the district title in a tournament here last week when they defeated the Volts of Abilene. Socialism Is Insidious

The Wheeling, West Virginia, Intelligencer recently ran a long editorial, entitled "A Critical Matter," on the Tennessee Valley Authority's proposal to build a steam electric plant whose ultimate cost would be $225,000,000 or more. It pointed out that the taxpayers of all the states would have to chip in to pay the bill—precisely as they have chipped in to meet all the millions TVA has spent so far. It observed that in other areas the taxpaying, privately-owned and privately managed utilities do the job, without one cent of government money, when the need for more service and facilities arises.

Going on, the Intelligencer said that if it is proper for the government to furnish our electricity, "the government would be right in building automobiles to meet unsatisfied demand, or going into the hotel business, or establishing a chain of beauty shops." Then, in conclusion, it said: "Here is a matter of critical gravity. Unless Congress is alert to the danger of socializing American industry, our system of government will be fundamentally changed without constitutional amendment, without submission to the people by the process provided in the Constitution, and without the great majority of our people being conscious of what has been done until it is too late...."

"It is essential, if the public's interest is to be protected, that Congress question every proposal for an appropriation and that it reject every effort to socialize the nation's industries and the professions. Only in this way can the American system, which has made us the greatest nation in the world, with the highest standard of living in all history, be preserved."

Socialism is an insidious thing. It grows and fattens almost imperceptibly. We give up a right here, a privilege there. We look to government for more and more services which once were provided by free enterprise. We give government ever-increasing authority over our lives and institutions. Then, in time, we find that our basic freedoms have been so undermined that it is next to impossible to restore them.

That is what gives TV's scheme to build a steam plant far greater importance than attaches to any mere industrial installation. The plant, if authorized, would amount to a declaration by Congress that the direct socialization of electricity is now desirable, without even the camouflage of flood control, reclamation, or any other such function. Any business could then expect to be swallowed by the government it supports.

Squandermania

Now that "thrif" is an obnoxious thing, which brings on depressions, according to President Truman, maybe we should all try to emulate the government and spend ourselves out of debt.

The big trouble with this whole thing, is that those confounded bankers, who control the credit, still have the old fashioned idea about finance. They just give you that stoney stare when you try to tell them you're just being patriotic when you want to spend money for everything you can think of. They don't agree with this new philosophy that saving is a sin. Why, some of those old reactionaries will actually try to get you to save money—the very idea.

They haven't learned yet that if you have a dollar you haven't spent, you're a traitor to your country. They don't know that depressions are caused by folks who hang onto dollars. It's people who save, the president says, that are to blame for hard times.

Of course squandermania is the new type of financing in Washington. Never use one man on a job if there's room for two, even though there isn't enough work for just one. If you can spend a billion dollars, never stop with a trifling million. Spend, spend, spend. That's the new national motto.

Wouldn't it be a wonderful world if we could just repeal the law of economics? Or, would it?

Neither Side Is Perfect in Fight Between Labor Leaders and Business

By MAURICE R. FRANKS

"Bravo! Bravo!" The walls re-echo and the rafters ring. . . . The Greater Businessmen's Association of Metropolis, U. S., is in session and the speaker of the occasion is a noted author and lecturer.

"Mr. Chairman, members, distinguished guests," he has declaimed. "I am overwhelmed to be with you today because of the wonderful opportunity afforded me to discuss with you a matter in which all of us are mighty interested. Glancing over this great group of business executives of this great city of Metropolis, I cannot but feel mighty optimistic about the future."

"Now, gentlemen—" the speaker lowers his voice to a confidential tone—"I know you'll all be interested to learn that I have just completed a national survey—we used to call them 'polls' (laughter)—among the nation's leading businessmen, and here's what this survey of mine reveals. . . ."

"This survey of mine reveals that American business has absolutely nothing to worry about! Oh, yes, certain dyed-in-the-wool pessimists are doing a lot of talking these days about the unemployment problem but actually this is a matter of minor concern. What are a mere four million unemployed in a country of a hundred and forty-eight million? A drop in the bucket, gentlemen! The businessmen of this nation are to be highly congratulated for the marvelous job they are doing to hold the line of unemployment, and I can tell you right here and now—to the man—they are bending every effort to prevent unemployment from spreading. Yes, gentlemen, I say it again from the bottom of my heart, you are to be congratulated!"

(One hour later)—"And in conclusion, my friends, let me state in emphatic terms that the leaders of industry can hold their heads high, for they have done, and are doing, a perfectly grand job! I thank you."

But down the street, in another end of town, other walls re-echo and other rafters ring. For in the hall of the Steam Piano Tuners Union, Mike has the floor. . . . "And, brothers," Mike is shouting at the very top of his lungs, "here's another thing: Don't you believe a single word of what these employers are trying to tell you about the labor leaders of this country! I've met the bulk of 'em and I can tell you right here and now that, to the man, our labor leaders are a swell bunch of guys—hard-working, hard-hitting, interested in one thing and one thing only: the general welfare of the workers!"

"So here I say, don't you believe a single thing you read in the newspapers about racketeering labor leaders! I've personally been with the labor movement plenty long and I've never yet come across a leader who wasn't on the level. From the bottom to the top, I can tell you the labor movement is something all of us here can take our hats off to!"

(One hour later)—"And in conclusion, my worthy brothers, let me remind you that we'd all of us be back in the days of Simon Legree if it wasn't for the great leadership you are getting today through your unions. Our unions, because of their leadership, are doing one grand job! I thank you!"

And so the show goes on—east side, west side, all around the town. The two meetings portrayed above are obviously fictitious, but they fit well into the general picture. They are not as exaggerated as they may appear at first. I have, and doubtless the reader as well, has attended meetings of this general nature, wherein the speakers play to the audience and bid for applause.

Well, to my mind, this line of approach is not only silly, it is likewise very dangerous. From coast to coast I have met businessmen and labor leaders galore, but I didn't see any of them wearing a halo. Certainly we have employers who, through selfishness, short-sightedness and plain avariciousness, are doing untold damage to our American system of free enterprise. And by this same token, it's safe to assume that not all of our labor leaders just fell out Heaven, either. Too many labor unions, composed mostly of honest, God-fearing men and women, are controlled by racketeers and radicals who, through their stupidity, their short-sightedness and their all-out avariciousness, are playing the Devil's own part in wrecking, not only our system of free enterprise, but the principle of free unionism as well.

It's about time—if the American way of life means anything to us—that the orators of both labor and management came down to earth themselves exclusively to bringing about a better relationship between the partners of industry. And this will be better done if management's speakers will tell what is wrong with management, and if those of organized labor will point out spots where the unions aren't lily-white.

A lecturer, prepared to tell his own group only the things they want to hear and already believe, contributes little or nothing to the creation of the team spirit our present industrial situation requires. Unless such a speaker has the guts to dish it out straight to the people he is talking to—whether they like it or not—he might as well be standing there SPEAKING TO A MIRROR.

England's Plight Should Warn Us Before We, too Face Disaster

By GEORGE PECK

The story has oft been told of an American doughboy in World War I. He was going into the trenches for a period of weeks where he would receive no pay and couldn't spend it if he did. He had fifty cents in his pocket so he spent it for a money belt in which to keep his money.

There seems to be a parallel between that story and England of today. The Englishman now enjoys (?) among other things, free medicine and dental care. Has he lost the teeth which God provided him, his new god, the British Government, makes him a present of a man-made denture. At the same time, this same new god periodically cuts down on his food ration, tells him to still further tighten his belt. Over here we Americans wonder why the new teeth? What's the Britisher going to chew on?

In my column release of February 24, 1946, I led with my chin when I said in part regarding a proposed loan or gift to England:

"... If we do grant this loan or gift to England, it will be a temporary palliative which in the long may help to destroy the British Empire. If we refuse to grant it, Mr. Attlee and his government may not be able to carry out their socialization program. Believing as we do that such a program would spell even a ruin for the English people, then the greatest kindness we can render them is to refuse the requested loan or gift. It would be an awkward and unpleasant temporary situation, but may save England from doing herself lasting and irreparable damage."

This, as I had expected, brought a flood of letters, most of them accusing me of being an "America Firster." Frankly, I have never been able to see anything wrong about an American being for America first. I think it is much more respectable than being for Russia first in the style of the Paul Robesons and Henry Wallaces.

Well, we made the loan or gift to England. And then we made some more. Today, England is bankrupt. Her socialist leaders kid the people and their followers that the cure for England's socialist ill is more socialism. In other words more poison to cure the poisoning.

The Englishman no longer can proudly sing that memorable line "Britons Never, Never Shall Be Slaves," from "Rule Britannia." Today he is a slave of his Government; he has given up his freedom for a mess of Government doled free medicine, free wigs, free dentures, etc.

For centuries it the Englishman's proud boast that, "His Home Was His Castle." But not today. His home is just a roof over his head to be invaded willy-nilly by a horde of socialistic, bureaucratic snoopers.

Said William Pitt in 1783: "The poorest man may in his cottage bid defiance to all forces of the Crown. It may be frail; its roof may shake; the wind may blow through it; the storms may rage; but the King of England cannot enter; all his forces dare not cross the threshold of the ruined tenement."

But, on March 11, 1947, Prime Minister Attlee revealed that seventeen Ministries had power to authorize inspection involving entry into private houses and premises without a search warrant. It later was admitted that 10,916 Government Officials were authorized to carry out inspections and investigations without a search warrant.

That is the sad plight of the Englishman today. It is a shame that we have largely contributed to the condition of servitude in which he now finds himself.

The big question that confronts us is, "Are we going to continue to travel down the same road that has brought disaster to England?" If we don't put on the brakes on wasteful government spending and say "NO" to all the socialist schemes being propounded for one of these days, and not too far off, we will end up in the same ash-can with our British cousins.

LOOPHOLES in the Law

By WILL WILSON

Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys' Association

Having drunk more beer than he could handle, Joe started a great disturbance in a tavern. The county sheriff was called. When he reached the tavern he tried to quiet Joe by talking to him. But Joe was in no condition to listen to reason. He threatened to kill the sheriff.

The sheriff was unarmed, so he went back to his car and got a pistol. When he returned to the tavern Joe had been carried to the back door by two men. The sheriff followed the men and approached Joe. As he came close Joe stabbed him in the chest with a knife.

The wound was wide and went to the rib. It would have produced death if it had not struck a rib. Since that happened, however, the wound was not serious and the sheriff had to make only one visit to the doctor.

Joe was arrested, of course, charged with assault with intent to murder. He was convicted of the charge. But when the case was appealed the higher court reversed the decision, the court ruling that the trial testimony was faulty because the record contained no testimony regarding the size and length of the knife blade or the type of Joe had used.

Too many criminals go free in Texas because of such technicalities as this one. The State Bar wants to close the loopholes through the vision of the criminal statutes.

Let The Herald Do That Job Printing For You NOW!

A Change is in Order...

Change to OIL-PLATING!

Better Protection!... Safe-guard your new car with Conoco Nth Motor Oil. There's an exclusive additive in Conoco Nth that fastens an extra shield of lubricant right to the metal surfaces. That's OIL-PLATING!

Saves Your Car!... OIL-PLATING is always there—a buffer against wear. Even when the oil itself has been squeezed out by high loads, high speeds or high temperature, Conoco Nth extra shield protects moving parts.

Safe Starts!... OIL-PLATING holds fast. It can't all drain down, not even overnight. No metal-gouging "dry-friction" starts in the morning with an OIL-PLATED engine!

Lets You Brag!... because another additive in Conoco Nth fights sludge and carbon... keeps repair bills low!

Conductor on Katy Is Impressed By Friendliness of Hamlinites

Don SoRelle, a conductor on the M. K. & T. railroad through Hamlin, thinks the people here are unusually friendly and hospitable. In an article which appeared in the DeLeon Free Press, his home town paper, SoRelle told of some incidents that took place in Hamlin.

His article follows:

"A busy town with friendly people is Hamlin, Texas.

"While I am ram-rodding a work train on the M. K. & T. railroad through Hamlin, I am making contact with people.

"This town reminds me so much of DeLeon that I just want to write about it. They don't have the peaches, peanuts and melons that DeLeon has, but they do have the same honest-to-goodness people.

"You walk up the street and almost every one you meet speaks or nods to you as though they are public office holders and you a taxpayer and vote there.

"Hamlin has nice modern homes, schools and churches. It also has well-stocked, prosperous markets. Their prices seem somewhat better than most western towns.

"They have two large lakes for their water supply and recreation. And in those lakes, besides motor boats and paddle boats, are bass, bluegill, crappie, yellow cats and channel cats.

"One evening this week after we had made the chow line at a local cafe, brakeman Warren, brakeman Gregory and I drove off, and I mean took off.

"It must have made a hundred miles an hour, maybe a hundred and 40. Anyway from the sound of that double exhaust, it was making two hundred. Knowing a little something about motors, I guessed it to be a 22 horse power, souped up. I was right.

"After breezing around for a while it came in to a trailer. We walked over for a closer view, and of course I had to ask questions.

"The gentleman owner and operator seemed glad to talk with us and introduced himself as McCrary, with no title of any kind. From the layout I took him to be an oil man who had got his the hard way.

"After talking fishing with him awhile I wanted to call him Mac, right off the bat. Next day I learned he was Dr. McCrary, dentist and sportsman of that section of the country.

"I wanted to get better acquainted with him, so next evening after office hours, I casually drove by his office. He was standing outside with his pants legs rolled up to his knees. You would have thought he was just another railroad hand. And if it wasn't for the diplomat that he is, I would feel like a cheap skate in his presence. He took me into his beautiful home and I met his lovely family. We have a fishing trip planned this week.

"Other friends, of long standing, and former DeLeon residents are, a strong, healthy and beautiful Star Inzer and his wife. I spent a child.

"I hope to be around Hamlin until after the hunting season and meet all the people. By that time I feel like I can talk back to the law and not be molested."—Don SoRelle.

PLAY

VACATION! They've picked time and place, and they've planned and saved for months.

That's the American way—the way of free choice—so familiar we take it for granted. A man picks his job, leaves it freely for a better one. He chooses the town he'll work in, the house where he'll live. He saves or spends as he wishes.

It's not that way everywhere. In some countries, the government puts a man in a city, a house, a job, with no choice in the matter. He can't quit, leave town or move around the corner without permission. If he gets a vacation, he is told where and when to go. The government runs everything, the people nothing. That's what happens when a free people turn over their responsibilities to their government. They also turn over their freedom of choice. Socialism is the result. How does Socialism happen? Not overnight. It is woven slowly, a thread at a time, into the bonds of slavery. Little by little the government assumes powers other than governing—until it finally assumes all power.

You, here in West Texas, would be astounded by the various ways and means that some formerly good statesmen in Washington have been politically jockeyed and pressured into succumbing in many instances to the Socialistic planners that have infected our government and good old-line political parties.

Through acquiescence against the better judgment of some of our statesmen, our Federal government has already embarked on political, bureaucratic duplications and the taking over of private businesses with your tax funds.

This is true not only in our industry in some eastern locations, but the bureaucrats are now openly aiming at banks, insurance, steel, railroads, mines, forests and many other private businesses that have so helped this country to grow, produce and prosper. This is how Socialism got its political wedge and hold in such non-producing countries as England is today and it is why such countries are not producing but are leaning on us.

Talk to your friends and neighbors; see how they feel about this Socialism and other political "isms" in Washington that are threatening your American way of life; decreasing your liberties and increasing your taxation.

Physical Check-Up of All Students Urged

The month of September brings a return of school days, and thousands of Texas boys and girls will be returning to classrooms for the next nine months. Every one of these children, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, should be as free as possible from all physical defects that can be corrected, and protected against other diseases which frequently spread through classrooms.

A complete medical and dental pre-school check-up is of the utmost importance in getting the child ready for school. Eyes, ears, nose, throat, and teeth should be carefully examined, and all remediable defects corrected or placed under treatment. Such defects can lead to serious impairment of growth and progress academically, socially, and emotionally.

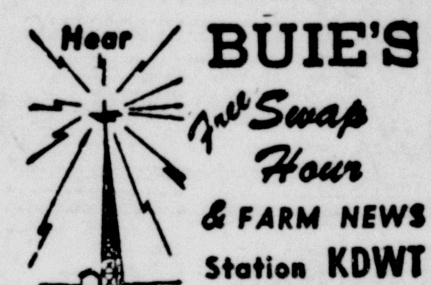

Defects of hearing and vision handicap a child in his class work, and often result in the false impression that he is backward and unable to learn. Such defects can often be corrected, and the child is not only more progressive in his school work, but is a happier, better balanced individual as a result of being more socially acceptable. Dental defects should be corrected not only for cosmetic reasons, but because good teeth enable a child to chew his food properly and thus promote good digestion and bodily nourishment.

"In addition to correcting such defects as already exist, young children should be protected by immunization against disease, when possible," Dr. Cox said.

Rev. R. Luther Kirk, superintendent of the Perryton district of Methodist churches, will be in charge of a revival meeting in the Dovie Methodist Church, August 19 to 28. It was announced this week. Services will be conducted each morning and each evening during that period. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Winters of Borger have spent the past two weeks in Hamlin as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Miller and Mrs. and Mrs. Bryant Conner. Mrs. Conner and daughter, Wynne, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Winters to San Antonio and Mexico during their visit here.

Celotex, Sylvester to Vie for Softball Title

Celotex and Sylvester men's softball teams were slated to play the first game in the league playoff series Thursday evening, after having been rained out Tuesday night.

The series will be continued Friday evening, and, if necessary, a final game will be played Saturday evening. Coach Red Burditt, sponsor of the league, said.

In the women's division Samford and Nelida agreed to call their contest a tie when both teams came into the week with one game each to their credit. The teams could not agree on date for the playoff.

A woman went into a department store. She was looking for blankets. She had had the patient clerk take down each and every blanket but one.

"Well," she said, "I don't think I'll buy anything. You see, I'm really looking for a friend."

"If you think your friend is hidden in that last blanket, madam, I'll be glad to take it down for you."

A physical instructor was assuring one of his pupils that swimming was the best exercise in the world for keeping a slim and beautiful figure. Noting that doubt still lingered in the girl's face he asked: "Don't you believe me?"

"Of course, I believe you," she assured him hastily, "but did you ever look at a duck?"

Camp Fire Girls Had First Meeting Monday

"Naturally
"How much is this bread?" asked the customer.
"Ten cents. But I've got another loaf here that's twenty cents," said the grocer.
"What's the difference?"
"The twenty-cent loaf costs more."

No Sap, He
A sheriff was taking a prisoner to jail. A gust of wind came around the corner and blew off the prisoner's hat. The prisoner made a sudden lunge forward to get it.
"No, you don't, wise guy," said the sheriff. "You stand where you are. I'll run and get it."

Elmer G. Johnson, President of Harlingen State Bank, Harlingen, Texas, writes, on February 20, 1948: "Please send another bottle of Liquid Garlic, also send a bottle to my sister-in-law, Mrs. Hulda C. Dutton, 45 Atwater Terrace, Springfield, Massachusetts.

"I have some good reports to make on the effectiveness of garlic used. Mr. Turner, Texaco dealer here has taken two bottles and is much better, his blood pressure down about 60 points. Mrs. W. F. Missing Equations

"It was the Atomic Theory class, and the instructor of the physics class wrote down an equation on the blackboard and stated that a certain number of electrons were involved. From this he developed an entire board of equations, winding up at the bottom with, 'So you see we have five less electrons than at the start. What became of them?'"

Not a sound from the class. Imperatively the instructor asked again, "Gentlemen, where are those electrons?"

It was time for action and from a rear seat came a gruff command: "Don't nobody leave this room."

Gentle Hint

She was an old-fashioned girl and insisted that he ask her father for her hand before she would consent to marry him. He boldly ventured into the lion's den and told her father rather bluntly that he wanted to marry Kathleen.

"Well, well," said papa, shifting his weight slightly in his chair, "and what do you do for a living, young man?"

"I'm an actor, sir," he replied proudly. Her father shifted his entire weight to the balls of his feet as he suggested emphatically, "Then hurry up and get out before the foot lights."
